KHRUSHCHEV ACCEPTS INVITATION TO FRANCE

PARIS (AP)—President de Gaulle said tonight Soviet Premier Khrushchev has accepted an invita-tion to visit France at a date to be fixed later. The announcement said:

'The president of the French republic has invited the president of the council of ministers of the Soviet Union to visit France. "Mr. Khrushchev has made known in response that he thanks General de Gaulle and that he has accepted the invitation.

It has been reported in diplomatic circles here that the visit will most likely take place toward the end of this year or the first of next year. This may, however, depend on intervening developments toward reaching an East-West summit conference

into the relatively quiescent hive of Canadian education and stirred up a hornets' nest.

Her book was greeted with much abuse by teachers and some honest rebuttal. The eminent member of the Massey commission served education well by jarring the public out of its apathy.

More than half a decade later a revival of the argument that schools "so little for the mind" seems to be warming up the old de-

A simple fact of Canadian education today-if there is a simple -seems to be that schools offer as much as the bright mind can assimilate. Sometimes, because all our teachers are not good, the offer is not made as effectively as possible. And in a vast number of less gifted students cannot accept what is presented.

You can't cram a gallon from the springs of learning into a pint pot. More pint pots are being placed higher grades in school as mass education and the taxpayer's de-mand to give his children everything that is available makes promotion less selective

Rather than rehash the old arguit might be more valuable to Canada if people concerned with schools—and what taxpayer isn't? -took into consideration the importance of home environment in the educational processes know say that today's bright students are as bright as they ever were, sometimes brighter. Generally they learn more in school than did previous generations. These same authorities make the further point

SIX YEARS AGO DR. HILDA that the advanced student usually, Neatby poked a probing stick though not always, comes from a home where high importance is attached to education. They argue convincingly that a child whose parents are little concerned in seeing that the youngster studies, develops critical faculties and does his homework intelligently is not encouraged to make the most bis abilities or opportunities. ey underscore the fact that They underscore the schools control the child for a little more than five hours in every 24 hour day for nine of the twelve months of each year.

The influence of that five-hour sion has to be expanded by intelligent co-operation in the home.

That does not, of course, relieve the schools of their obligations to give the best possible instruction during class hours. Nor does it give them an excuse for failing to develop the subjects in a way to avoid the criticism that there is "so little for the mind."

Whether or not the course material is adequate for the times is a question which will be debated as long as schools are alive and alert to current needs. That is a subject which should receive effective attention in the course of a panel discus-"What should your child be man's worth was taught in school" at Oak Bay Junior High auditorium next Thurs-

Any such concept is wishful thinking. Moscow, it is true, has soft-pedalled comment on Red China's brush with India, though the Kremlin has supported Peking on Tibet. And Mr. Khrushchev has given no indication that Moscow would risk war with the United States should China embark on the Formosa adventure.

There have been many instances in which Russia has shown little sympathy for some of China's projects—the institution of the communes, for one. Moreover, there may have been unusual restraint in the welcome accorded Mr. Khrushchev on his recent visit to Add to this an inclination on the Soviet part to thaw relationships with the West while Mao shows no similar disposition.

But when all the incidents are assessed, it is abundantly clear that they do not constitute a deep division between the two partners. And they won't for excellent reasons.

Russia's position in the world would be far weaker without China as her-chief ally. China's position, likewise, would lose strength if she broke with Russia.

Some time in the future the U.S.S.R. Red China alliance may disintegrate—as alliances have disintegrated throughout history. But he cleavage should not be expected overnight.

This is a time of delicate manoeuvre in Russian-Chinese relationships. The West, at this point, has no occasion to see it as anything more.

busy in Victoria this year. The Symphony has been encouraged by the support given to it. The Gilbert and Sullivan Society made a larger profit on its late spring production than ever before in history. The Theatre Guild has frequently played to capacity audiences. would be unfortunate if this trend fell short of meeting the requirements of the Victoria Musical Art Society, now enlisting members

The Taxpayer Picks Up the Tab

THE LADY IN THE TV ADvertisement does not mention butter or margarine. Neither does the announcer who reads the script.

But the lady makes appropriate faces to signify her enjoyment of the spread she is testing for the first time and the announcer says that never again will she buy higher-priced spreads.

The short commercial under-scores the problem faced by dairy producers—and Canadian taxpay-ers, since the Federal Government set a 64 cent floor under butter

But while the price of butter is held at no less than 64 cents for the Canadian consumer, Ottawa says it may sell between 10 million and 20 million pounds to the United Kingdom for 50 cents a pound. The Canadian taxpayer, who can't buy 50 cents a pound butter, picks up the tab covering the dif-ference between the selling price to Britain and the price paid to the Canadian farmer

In the meantime, as the TV advertisement suggests, the domestic, household market for butter shrinks. Provided production is maintained, the surplus grows. The taxpayer covers the loss on exports to Britain and the dairy farmer has occasion to wonder how long this artificial condition can be maintained.

DRESSED TO PERSUADE

By B. A. TOBIN

Judging by Appearances: the Modern Trend white scarf and goggles, thus revealing

TIME was when things were what they seemed to be. People were judged on the qualities that were required of them: a runner was good because he could run fast, a ditch dig-ger made the grade. on his digging ability, a singer had to be able to sing, a business gauged by his profits.

But somehow it's all been changed during the past few years. Values and standards

Tobin

Joe Doakes, the famous actor, may, for instance, portray an aviator film story. Everybody knows that ood camera work he's able to put over the idea that he's a Grade A flyer. Why do we think Joe is a flyer? Because he's been made up to resemble a flyer to the last detail.

The Main Thing

Small wonder, then, that over the years, with a steady diet of this makebelieve, we tend to think that looks the important factor and that actual ability is a secondary consider-

Or take the case of Marilyn Doakes, the well-known actress. Within the space of a few months she successfully plays an executive, a shop girl, a lady of fashion, an athlete, a suburban house wife: For each of these films she looks the part exactly—yet we know she can't be all of them. What puts the idea over? Appearances, even when we know they are deceiving.

Modern advertising, too, has coached us along this path. We are urged to buy goods, in many cases, only to give us the appearance of this or that.

If you want to look like a success you have to wear our suits, shave with our razor blades, drive our car, live in a house covered with our paint. If you want to look as though you loved your family you should have our

of affairs, you should smoke our cigars, wear our shoes, keep our magazine on your living room table.

Play the Part

It doesn't matter whether in reality you are a success, love your family or are a man of affairs. The over-ruling idea is that you look as though you are or do these things. And the stage props will help you carry it off.

So how is a man to be blamed, after years of this influence, if he begins to accept the appearance rather than the fact; if he begins to confuse seeming with being?

A couple of examples have been in the news. In England the Government the news. In England the Government inspectors have condemned a bull to death, not because he isn't a good bull, for his pedigree is excellent; but solely because he doesn't look like a bull. His head has the gentle look of a cow; it hasn't the heavy, bull-like features.

It's as though our actor friend, im-personating an aviator, had left off his that he wasn't a genuine aviator.

In Toronto, in much the same vein

a young student teacher has been fired from his job because he weighs too much. He didn't look like a teacher, the complaint said, since teachers don't normally look as though they weigh 278 pounds, and this young fellow did.

It wasn't his teaching ability—that was not questioned. It was just that he didn't measure up to the image of a teacher that we have come to recognize. If he had been teacher-looking but actually a very bad pedagogue, he might still have had his job today. Hollywood's casting bureaus would never have made an error like this.

More to Come

The frightening thing is that we are only on the fringes of the trend.

Already we read of American execu arready we read of American execu-tives having themselves remodeled in order to look the part a little more closely. They are getting their non-executive appearing teeth recapped, growing executive-type mustaches, pur-chasing hair pieces of good executive appearance, conforming to the executive's uniform as regards suit, shoes, shirts, ties and hat.

The man inside may be a complete numbskull, but he can get by on his ap-pearance and probably amass a fortune in the process

We may yet see want ads specify g "University mathematics professor needed; must have clipped grey mus tache"; or "Pharmacist required; pink complexion essential"; or even "Political party candidate sought; must have sincere eyebrows."

It may yet come to this. In fact, if

ing the controversial 64-oz, milk carton used by the Milky Way Dairies, we strongly feel the minister of agriculture has by passed the issue and given a weak explanation for putting the small man out of business. As staunch supporters of the Social Credit movement we fail to see where this move is in keeping with Social Credit policies for it does not promote agriculture but discourages it. Housewives are familiar with the 32-oz. quart measure, recipe measurements are based on 32-oz. per quart, 8-oz. per cup or ½ pint. We are not being deceived as the minister of agriculture has stated. When we can buy fruit juices, etc.,

canned in B.C., in 48-oz, size (neither 1 quart nor 11/2 quarts in the minister's w method of measuring liquids) we would like to know why we cannot buy a 64-oz, carton of milk, of excellent quality, also packaged in British

We feel we have a minister of agriculture who does not have the interest of the small man at heart, and does not clearly define his position, for during his years of office he has not accomplished any noticeable, worthwhile achievements. He has in fact chosen to close his eyes to the lack of development in this field.

Although we haven't any connection with the dairy business other than as ousewives and as previously mentioned active Social Credit supporters, our interest is to see Social Credit policies ashered too, especially in places of high office.

Milk and Cartons

The recent controversy over the right of Milky Way Dairy to market its milk in clearly marked 64-oz. cartons, has revealed the dictatorial powers wielded by a government legislating by order in council. Under Canadian law it is required that goods sold in containers be clearly marked with the Milky Way has complied with the law, yet the minister of agriculture has taken it upon himself to force the concern into bankruptcy. Since jurisdiction over weights and measures is a federal matter it, seems doubtful whether Mr. Steacy is within his rights, Mr. Steacy has generously allowed

Why Not 64-Ounce Milk? the dairy sixty days in which to rethe population has been equal to under-

The American machine now turning t 64-oz. (U.S. half-gallon) cartons, was bought outright for $5,000. The best price on a machine delivering Imhalf-gallons, would be about $28,000 down, plus a yearly rental of $4.800, ad infinitum. These machines cannot be bought but are used on a rental basis, after down payment.

Also, since the machine is intended for large operations only, its size would necessitate the construction of an entirely new building to house it. Mr. Steacy is aware of these facts and he well knows that Saanich farmers do not command that kind of money. is ironic that some years ago when Island dairymen were docked 70 cents per cwt. Mr. Bennett himself advised them to make up the difference by marketing their own milk. Of course it is pure coincidence that in Grand Forks where no large interests are involved, a small plant has been operating for nearly a year, marketing milk in 64-oz. cartons and the I.Q. of what was printed thereon. The controversial 64-oz, milk carton debate regarding the controversial 64-o within a few months—as soon, in fact, as the new cartons had achieved popularity—he had to pass an order in council forbidding their use.

It seems improbable that Victoria contains one normal English speaking adult who is unaware that U.S. gallons are smaller than Canadian gallons; it is impossible that one could be found does not understand the meaning of the word "ounce".

Under Surveillance

By VICTOR MACKIE

CANADIAN external affairs officers who have had assignments to Moscow will sympathize the security of ider of the U.S. emssy, accused of es ionage by the Soviet government and ordered to leave Russia. The latest incident points up the risks at-tached to assignments in Moscow. Members of the various diplo matic corps, including Canadians, have found that life in the Soviet capital can-be nerve-wracking and even at times risky. The Russians closely watch the activities of foreigners. A misstep and they may find themselves, under threat of blackmail, being offered the alternative of becoming a Soviet espionage agent.

Espionage

Canadian diplomats on their return from a posting in Moscow tell of being trailed on various occasions by Russian agents. There appears to be no reason why they should be followed, but they are tailed for some time. Then the agents drop them for a while and start keeping tab on the movements of the diplomat's wife.

There are indications that the telephones are tapped and that apartments have been wired for sound. A favorite stunt in the war of nerves is the telephone bell starting its shrill clamor at 3 or 4 a.m. But when the receiver is picked up all that can be heard from the other end of the line is heavy breathing and a "click", as the mysterious caller hangs up his receiver. When this happens once or twice a night for a period it can become a bit nerve shredding.

Bugged

Irving R. Levine, for several years an American correspondent in Moscow, talks about the experience of Canadian diplomats in his book "Main Street U.S.S.R." (Doubleday).

He wrote: "It is a fact that eight microphones were discovered iduring one of the periodic checks that all em-bassies make) in the Moscow apartment of a member of the Canadian embassy's military staff. There were two under the parlor floor, two in the ceiling, two more were rooted out of dining room paneling and two were

A check here with the department of external affairs on the statements made by Mr. Levine brought no confirmation or denial. The departmental spokesman preferred to make no comment, adding that nothing he could say would be helpful.

Criticism

Canada's Conservative Government is coming in for criticism again in British newspapers. A short while ago British newspapers. A short while ago it was Canadian immigration policies that came under fire. More recently it was reported that The Times of London sent an editorial writer on a side trip to Canada (after a tour of the U.S.A.) to caim the ire of Prime Minister Diefenbaker. The prime minister's temper was said to have been aroused by critical editorials in The Times.

His temper will not be improved

His temper will not be improved when he reads The Times heading on the report of its Ottawa correspondent regarding the results of the Russel byelection. Proclaimed The Times: "Canadian rebuff to Government." And in smaller type underneath the main head it said: "By-election Swing to Liberals." Meantime the News Chronicle in a dispatch from Ottawa by Ian Cass finds ister for "going fishing" at a time when Nikita Khrushchev was touring the United States, the U.S. steel strike was threatening to paralyze the North American economy and important American labor legislation, with pos-sible repercussions in Canada, was being passed by Congress.

Decision

The Federal Government's rejection of the request of its civil service for a pay raise was a hard decision to make. But the Government obviously decided it was the only decision in the face of its heavy deficits, the mounting threat of inflation and the heavy de mands on the capital market. However, the turndown brought a shocked reac from the Government's employees. Their immediate decision was to reject strike action but instead to appeal to the public and put their case before the taxpayers across the country. They will make an appeal via the newspapers, radio and television,

They believe that if they can sell the public then they can force the Gov ernment's hand and win their pay hikes. But the Federal Government clearly doubts that the civil servants will be successful in attempting to co vince the public that they are entitled increases that would amount to $242,000,000.

To raise that kind of money, says Ottawa, it would have to boost the income tax 15 per cent. That is calculated to make the general taxpayer less than sympathetic to the civil servants' plea-

Compromise

But the civil servants want some sort of a compromise. They cannot see why the Federal Government could not provide partial increases at this time with the remainder to be put through when federal revenues start to swell They argue that it is manifestly unfair for the federal administration to apply its "hold the line" policy to its own em-ployees while it has failed to apply that policy in other segments

Snapped a civil-service spokesman reply to the Government's argu-ents, "We have become the pawns ments, "We have become the pawns in the budgetary and fiscal policy of the Government." Said another "Civi servants are being victimized, penalized and asked to subsidize the Government's deficit."

A lot of people will understand his point

Almost everyone who has visited London, I suppose, has looked down that dullappearing street called Downing at the unimpressive structure called No. 10 and feit mildly disappointed. There isn't much visual glamour to the structure.

Yet, in its way, it has housed the pulsing heart of one of the world's greatest political systems. It also happens to be home for the man who is Prime Minister, and Mr. Macmillan's present "lease" should run five rooms, the furnishings and the atmosphere of No. 10. It can, I guess, become home, Its familiar faults and familiar virtues probably grow into a person. Figure it in terms of your own house and some of the characteristics you have become accustomed to...

Years ago, at our place, a thoughtful person placed a vase of flowers in the sickroom of a temporary invalid upstairs. Unnoticed, somebody tipped the vase and the water ran its devious way over the floor, found a crack in the covering, seeped through and stained the plaster of the living room ceiling in an almost perfect outline of Lake Superior.

Two succeeding coats of kalsomine failed to obliterate the stain. At first we used to glance at the ceiling and feel annoyed. Later we got used to it.

A person could sit before the open fire, lean his head against the top of an easy chair, contemplate Lake Superior and lease his mind to join the coureur-de-bois on its early exploration.

Eventually another coat of paint obliterated the smudge. Our ceiling now is as uninteresting a prospect as the prairies seen from a train window at night.

Years ago also, we placed a piano in a section of the room. Its weight caused the floor to settle a trifle—not much, but enough to show a slope between the piano top and the beading over the panelling unless the piano is placed in a particular position. It's part of the art of our furniture arrangement now to see that the piano s in the exact spot to avoid this break in parallelism.

Once, while the open-fire blazed high on a stormy night, a small stone in the mortar over the arch broke away and carried part of the brick with it. It left an unsightly blemish at first, but we've grown accustomed to it now. It's part of the house, adding to the hominess of homeliness.

Maybe Mr. Macmillan sees similar endearing flaws in No. 10 as it is. Perhaps he'll have to let the contractors look after the underpinning.

I dunno, though, Maybe it would be better to leave things as they are, restrict parties to 249 people and put up a staid little notice, like those old-time framed mottoes, saying that jitter-bugging is not allowed.

The Production Man

NEW YORK Paul Hoffman looks rather like a banker from a small town in the American mid-west. At 68, he's silver-haired. He smiles easily, he's relaxed, kindly, and doesn't seem rushed for time. He looks as though he might have seven children and does. He doesn't look like a captain of indus." try—which he was. And he doesn't look like one of the most important international civil servants in the world-which he is.

Specifically, Paul Hoffman is the managing director of the United Nations Special Fund, an organization created at the beginning of this year to finance what is known as pre-investment development work in under-developed parts of the world.

The fund is the United Nations most ambitious development venture and it is designed to conduct surveys and other spadework leading up to capital development.

Experience has shown that once business opportunities are shown to exist there is comparatively little difficulty in finding the money to back them. The problem is to find the opportunities and this is what the special fund has been created to do. * * *

Before taking over as managing director of the fund. Paul Hoffman was chairman board of the Studebaker-Packard Corporation. Before that he was president of the Ford Foundation, and before that he was administrator of the United States Economic Co-operation Administration, better known as the Marshall Plan.

It was through the Marshall Plan that Hoffman first established an in reputation Before that, however. known nationally in the United States as president of Studebaker, a corporation which he joined in 1911 as a salesman. Mr. Hoffman is thus something decidedly unusual in United States affairs. He is the in the "airborne" stage, patience to show in public.

He has, for example, just finished making his first report to the UN General Assembly's Economic Committee, an experience similar to the presentation of departmental estimates before parliament in Ottawa.

Where Mr. Howe might have allowed himself the occasional snort and bark, Mr. Hoffman sat benignly through days of speechmaking. Even worse, he didn't have the satisfaction of receiving the amount of money which he regarded as essential, a fate which seldom bothered Mr. Howe.

Mr. Hoffman has set $100,000,000 a year as the amount he needs for the special fund, a little more than the cost of four destroyer escorts. Final contributions are not yet in but so far he's received less than 75 per cent of his target figure.

Canada, it might be noted, doubled her contribution last year, making her second only to the United States in international development contributions to the United Na-This year's Canadian contribution was unchanged, while the United Kingdom sharply increased contributions so that they now approximately double those of Canada.

Many people have described these as "give-away" payments, but in the opinion of Hoffman they are human survival insurance premiums. He points out that in the past 10 years, which saw the beginning of the revolutionary concept of world development, the average income per capita in the under-developed countries rose by about $20 while in the United States it was over $500,

The gap between the rich and poor, befigures, but looking ahead for the next decade, Hoffman sees hope if annual incomes can be increased by as little as $30 per person. This would be enough several countries, such as India and Brazil,

But informants could see a tangle said he did not spell out what he had in mind. of complications arising. Among the factors: to get his union back into the fold, but this seemed unlikely.

1. Banks now promises to obey an April ultimatum of the CLC to get out of areas of jurisdiction occupied by the National Association of Ma-rine Engineers (CLC). But the latter small union since has voted to seek a merger with the 40,000-member Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Work ers (CLC)

2. Since the SIU was cut adrift, the brotherhood has been vigorously raiding SIU membership and claims have picked up 500 on the west coast.

3. The brotherhood now is rolling up its sleeves for an invasion of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence River territory where the SIU has been domi nant for about 10 years.

WILL FIGHT BACK

The Brotherhood is the larg est all-Canadian union and swings considerable weight in the congress. It was a leader in the move to get the SIU out, and undoubtedly will fight tooth-and-nail to keep it out.

An immediate question was whether Banks' commitment would involve turning over raided engineers to the arch rival Brotherhood.

Gilbert, Sullivan Group Orgaized To Keep Tradition

Maintenance of the tradi-tions of Gilbert and Sullivan operas and encouragement for those presenting their works are the aims of the newlyformed Victoria branch of the Gilbert and Sullivan Society. Not a performing society but a fellowship it will support, says a spokesman, any G and S production by "any group from anywhere so long as the opera is compatible with the traditions set down by W.

The new society was formed Gilbert and Sullivan Society of London which has branches in many parts of the world. It is completely separate from the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Operatic Society which has been presenting operas and operettas here for a number of years.

for the space age!

All this talk about outer space isn't for Mr. and Mrs. Homemaker - what most Canadian families need is more inner space: more space to store things, more space for clothes, more space to live in. That's why Sylvaply Plywood is kept busy with home improvement ideas, like the bedroom wardrobe storage wall here in-the-making. This handsome wall-to-wall unit uses only a 24-inch strip of floor space. And it can store everything you and your wife wear - separate sections for each. It's but one of many free space-making plans at the Sylmaply dealer in your community - see him for sound, economical answers to your home storage problems. Whether you do-it-yourself or have-it-done, your Sylvaply dealer can help, even suggest ways to remodel now and pay later. Put Sylvaply to work for you now - it's out-of-this-world for the wonders it can perform!

SYLVAPLY: the engineered miracle in wood!

This tough, light weight, real wood panel is Canada's busiest building material. For a thousand uses in homes, farm and industry, there is a type, grade, thickness and panel size of Sylvaply for every job. Continuing research and quality control have made Sylvaply the leading brand of plywood . . . sold by dealers who know it, know who makes it, can vouch for its quality. Look for the brand name on the panel edge - Sylvaply water proof-glue plywood.

NEW YORK (AP) - Television producers John A. Aaron and Jesse Zousmer pulled out of the Person to Person show Thursday in a row with Frank Stanton, president of the CBS.

"Our lawyers have reached an amicable agreement with. lawyers for CBS to release us from our 52-week contract as soon as possible," Aaron and Zousmer announced.

The squabble grew out of the congressional investigation into rigged TV quiz shows. Stanton last week banned all quiz shows on his network. He also tossed out canned laughter and applause called on all programs, including the Person to Person, interview program, to play it straight with the public.

When a program is re-hearsed; or when it is filmed in advance, an acknowledgment of this should be made, Stanton said.

Aaron and Zousmer called Stantons reference to their program an "unwarranted

Fine Arts Centre Could Make City Magnet to World

A long-range vision of Victoria as "a world centre of the arts, sciences and humanities" was it is the very best of its type in the country. projected to Victoria Rotarians Thursday by symphony conductor Hans Gruber.

Mr. Gruber prefaced his remarks by saying that he was speaking "not as a stranger, but as a man who has adopted Victoria, married a Victoria girl, fathered two children, and could now view the scene from a contented middle age."

(Mr. Gruber is 34.)

These, the speaker said, should be the longrange goals of a city "whose economic lifeline does not depend on heavy industry, and will always be essentially a city of visitors and of residences":

1. We must develop "the finest university of its kind in Canada, and raise the funds for the development which it now asks.'

"Our fine art gallery must be expanded until

3. We must establish a repertory theatre, with productions

We must build "a unique auditorium suited to our special geographic setting . . . with one entire wall of glass facing the sea . . . where we can listen to the eternal masterworks.

5. We must create "the finest symphony or-chestra in the country, perhaps on the continent." Such attractions, Mr. Gruber said, would prove "an irresistible magnet to people from all over the

If it seemed impractical dreaming, the speaker reminded his audience that the symphony orchestra

had grown 80-fold in his own time.
"Our budget just 18 years ago was $1,000," he said. "Today it is $85,000.

"To put it in the first rank of orchestras now would require only a 10-fold increase.

"An orchestra of world standard would be beyond me," Mr. Gruber declared. "I do not propose to be part of it.

"Victoria would have to bring in the greatest and most reputable conductor. Let him build such an orchestra.

"Let him take the orchestra across Canada, across the United States, and to Europe. Can you envision a more spectacular form of advertising?

"If anyone thinks this is a lunatic idea, let him look to Stratford, Ontario. This town of 20,000 Canadians has become a magnet to theatre-lovers

The speaker said he "had never ceased to wonder at the marvellous job done by those who advertise the city. It's a miracle.

"They have sold quietness, serenity and beauty. "People I meet in various parts of the continent always speak of one unique attraction—the Butchart Gardens.

"I am convinced that Victoria is the most wonderful city in the world."

The symphony conductor drew chuckles from his audience when he said he would rather speak about automobiles than orchestras.

(His weekly column, "Gruber At The Wheel," appears in The Times.)

"My heart is really in cars, but I have to make a living," he murmured.

The speaker was introduced by Cliff Rutledge and thanked by George Gray. Tom Little presided.

I have been appointed a committee of one to answer a letter to the editor.

This letter to the editor appeared a couple of days ago, and it referred to our brandest newest columnists, Wayne and Shuster.

However, dear PUZZLED, much as I hate to explain quote Jokes unquote, I will try to explain the W. & S. joke about the oysters (see above, and pay attention.)

The first explanation which comes to mind is, the oyster who looked at the calendar did not notice it was LAST year's calendar, which means he missed the point of the joke by 12 months. (Mountain Standard Time.)

The second explanation is, the oyster didn't mean to look at the calendar, he meant to look at his wrist watch, but he (the oyster, just to clear things up) didn't have a wrist watch, because oysters rarely, if ever, have wrists, The third explanation is, the day before it became

Appreciation Fund Open for Injured Archie McKinnon

A fund has been started for injured YMCA physical training director Archie McKinnon. President of the Y board of directors, Art Stott, made the announcement today. Mr. Mckinnon, 63, was badly hurt nine days ago in the Crystal Garden pool doing a comedy water act. He suffered five broken ribs and a ruptured spleen, the latter removed by operation.

The "Archie McKinnon Appreciation Fund" is a response to innumerable requests that tangible appreciation be given "Archie" who has contributed so much to the development of young Victoria swimmers and athletes over the years.

One of the fund's purposes is to finance a convalescent trip for Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon. The proposal has the approval of his physician at St. Joseph's Hospital. "Times without number," said Mr. Stott, "individuals have expressed their gratitude for the kindness and consideration shown to them and theirs by Archie in a lifetime of service, far beyond the calls of his job in this community." Contributions to the fund may be forwarded to the

'Stick to Your Rib' Magic -With Steak, Kidney Meal By PENNY SAVER

Tired of hearing hubbie rave about the marvellous "stick to your ribs" dishes his mother used to make? Here's your chance to cook up some pretty stiff competition of your own. Why not try a good old steak and kidney pudding? There's a mixture of fresh red beef and kidney to be had, all ready for you to start working wonders with. The price is 69 cents

Don't believe what they tell you about the intricacies of making this time-honored dish. It's relatively simple, Follow these directions and you can't go wrong.

Dredge meat and kidney in seasoned flour and saute. Dredge meat and kidney in seasoned flour and saute. Don't forget a few onions for that extra zip. If you have no stock on hand don't panie. Just open a can of your favorite soup, beef broth or tomato is delicious. Add an equal portion of water Put the whole thing in a pot or saucepan and simmer for two hours.

When your meat is tender place in a pie dish and top with your favorite pastry recipe. Brush lightly with egg for that the description and some party recipe.

CRYPTIC CROSSWORD U.K. CHURCH DENIES STEEL SHARE 'KILLING'

LONDON (Reuters) —Stories that the Church of England had made "huge profits" from the sale of steel shares were dismissed Thursday night as 'moonshine" by church estates commissioner Sir Malgolm Trusam Eve.

He said the church has received many letters from poor people asking for a good Christmas present "out of these profits," he commented: "It is very pathetic."

Eve said no steel shares had been bought or sold since 1957.

Steel shares shot up on the London market after the Conservative government was returned two weeks ago.

OTTAWA (CP)—Two employee organizations in the federal civil service have asked Finance Minister Fleming to make public the Civil Service Commission recommendations for higher salaries. The recommendation was turned down by the government.

The request was made in a letter this week to Mr. Fleming from the Civil Service Federation and the Civil Service Association.

The letter said the minister has stated the report is confidential but reminded him he had released an earlier commission report recommending against increases.

PODOLA'S SET NOV. 5

LONDON (Reuters) — The execution of Guenther Fritz Podola, convicted of murdering a London policeman, has been fixed for Nov. 5, it was officially stated here today.

The German-born 30-year-old photographer's last hope of evading the death sentence now lies with Home Secretary R. A. Butler, who could recommend his reprieve.

It was announced Thursday that the attorney-general had refused permission for the Po-dola case to be taken to the House of Lords — highest appeals authority in the country.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1959

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) - You would like to go out today and be extravagant, strut around, etc., but you would be wiser to look after property or do those things impossible to you during work days. See where you can make improvements and make this a fruitful Saturday.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) - Home ties and affairs should be first on the agenda today. Also, be sure you do not irk one under your roof, or you might not come out the winner of an argument. Look into channels that could prove very successful in the future.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)-Take particular "OPEN HOUSE" care while out driving, shopping, paying calls, etc. 2840 COOK Nonetheless, this is a good day to get much pertinent SAT, OCT. 24 Information that will help you understand others better 2-6 P.M. ONLY and cement better relations. Be alert and adroit.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) - Handle any necessary financial affairs in a.m. first. But make certain you get approval of associates who are cognizant of such problems. They will give good advice and all can be worked out most sensibly and successful.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Any argument at home will do absolutely no good and possibly alienate someone very important to your life. Go about doing nice little things for them instead and being very them instead and being very "OPEN HOUSE" cheerful, affectionate. P.M. put clothing in order.

bould keep you from accomplishing much of anything today. Forget it and take treatments that will improve health. Then be charming toward other persons, but have your purse zipped. Good things will happen

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A day when you must impress others with your friendship, and when you should help others reach their goals. P.M. put abode in finest order and bring about more harmony with kin. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) - Rather than make that fart remark to whomever has a good deal of power over your affairs, be courteous and safeguard "OPEN HOUSE" present security. Take particular care in motion, 835 CRAIGFLOWER especially while driving on short trips. SAT. OCT. 24

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) - A fine oppor 3-5 AND 6-8 P.M. tunity is yours now to step out of dull routine and get rid of whatever spoils your weekend. Get property improved, too! Take time to be analytical of yourself and all others with whom you come in contact.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) - You can attain whatever you desire within reason today by cleverness tempered by advotness. However, do not make financial problems for yourself by investing far more than you can comfortably afford later.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—A strange situation between an associate and an executive makes It imperative that you exercise real diplomacy and do some secret angling. Then you avoid problems and gain benefits. P.M. help those in need.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)-Avoid as much labor as possible today. However, know our true and loyal friends now and do whatever you can to help them achieve their goals. You have a good mind about practical matters and your advice is valuable.

HE YOUR CHILD IS BORN SATURDAY

The fine child born Saturday is the type who soon wants to use his, or her, little fists to fight every battle that comes along. Early teach that kind words are far more effective, and be sure any desire to instigate is early curbed. The mentality is very clear here, and you must early teach to meditate a while each day in order to bring out the great potential in this chart.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1959

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)-If you are on the qui vive, many opportunities will be yours for having a very pleasurable time today. Please others by showing your understanding of them and doing what they like to do. P.M. be devoted to loved one.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) - Be active at residence today. And this is a good time to work out personal and emotional problems with kin harmonlously and hit on some plan of operation that will be far more successful in the future. P.M. invite guests in for fun.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—It would be wise to take that little trip to place where you can get information or philosophy so necessary to you right now. Then utilize to best advantage. P.M. time for relaxation or having good, congenial fun with pals.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) - Some rearing, will prove valuable in some way today P.M. plarn your coming week's activities very carefully. It might be a good idea to write them out in schedule form.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—You will have many inspiring and practical thoughts today, as well as a ew impractical ones. Weed these out and make plans to follow through soon on constructive ideas that These can be the cornerstones of tomorrow's success

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—By going into a period of meditation today, you will get fine inspiraltional ideas. These will help you achieve your most cherished aims. Be sure you work them out in your mind constructively so that you soon make real

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—The fine thoughts "SELLER WANTS that occur to you today are numerous, so be sure you jot them down on paper for future use. Then confer with loyal friends and they will surely be willing to co-operate with you in working them out later.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) - Many fine suggestions are given you today concerning how you can become more successful in the future. Follow the advice of influential persons who have much experience "SECLUDED behind them and the real know-how.

SAGITTARIUS (Nev. 22 to Dec. 21)—Be sure to listen to words of wisdom from pulpit today, or read the finest philosophers. Living the Golden Rule will then make your life infinitely richer. Let your mind be opened to far greater visions of the future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Deeply embedded is some big and constructive Concentrate upon it today and consult with the right persons so that you can get their ideas and co-operation on this creative venture. Be specific. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Generosity and kindness with friends and partners is fine for you right now. Also, be understanding of their ideas and $2500 DOWN co-operative. They need your support and loyalty in order to be inspired. P.M. relax and have fun.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) - Consider seriously if you have been as kind and helpful to others as you should have been as kind and respons to others as you doing the nice things that will endear you to them. By living the Golden Rule, own life will then be enriched.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SUNDAY

The clever child born Sunday will do some very interesting and creative things during his or her, lifetime. Give fine training that will fit your progeny for civic life or work before the public, on the stage, etc. Be careful not to be overly critical, or your child loses self-confidence. A bit of flattery is not remiss here, for it will induce far greater success.

KHRUSHCHEV ACCEPTS INVITATION TO FRANCE

PARIS (AP)-President de Gaulle said tonight Soviet Premier Khrushchev has accepted an invita-tion to visit France at a date to be fixed later.

The announcement said "The president of the French republic has invited the president of the council of ministers of the Soviet Union to visit France."

"Mr. Khrushchev has made known in response that he thanks General de Gaulle and that he has accepted the invitation.

It has been reported in diplomatic circles here that the visit will most likely take place toward the end of this year or the first of next year. This may, however, depend on intervening developments toward reaching an East-West summit conference.

Fine Arts Centre Could Make City Magnet to World

A long-range vision of Victoria as "a world centre of the arts, sciences and humanities" was projected to Victoria Rotarians Thursday by symphony conductor Hans Gruber.

Mr. Gruber prefaced his remarks by saying that he was speaking "not as a stranger, but as a man who has adopted Victoria, married a Victoria girl, fathered two children, and could now view the scene from a contented middle age.

(Mr. Gruber is 34.)

These, the speaker said, should be the longrange goals of a city "whose economic lifeline does not depend on heavy industry, and will always be essentially a city of visitors and of residences

1. We must develop "the finest university of its kind in Canada, and raise the funds for the development which it now asks.'

2. "Our fine art gallery must be expanded until it is the very best of its type in the country. 3. We must establish a repretory theatre, with productions.

4. We must build "a unique auditorium suited to our special geographic setting . . . with one entire wall of glass facing the sea . . . where we can listen to the eternal masterworks.

5. We must create "the finest symphony orchestra in the country, perhaps on the continent."
Such attractions, Mr. Gruber said, would prove "an irresistible magnet to people from all over the

If it seemed impractical dreaming, the speaker reminded his audience that the symphony orchestra

had grown 80-fold in his own time.
"Our budget just 18 years ago was $1,000," he said. "Today it is $85,000.

"To put it in the first rank of orchestras now would require only a 10-fold increase.

"An orchestra of world standard would be beyond me," Mr. Gruber declared. "I do not propose to be part of it.

"Victoria would have to bring in the greatest and most reputable conductor. Let him build such an orchestra.

"Let him take the orchestra across Canada, across the United States, and to Europe. Can you envision a more spectacular form of advertising?

"If anyone thinks this is a lunatic idea, let him look to Stratford, Ontario. This town of 20,000 Canadians has become a magnet to theatre-lovers

The speaker said he "had never ceased to won-

"They have sold quietness, serenity and beauty. "People I meet in various parts of the continent always speak of one unique attraction-the Butchart Gardens. "I am convinced that Victoria is the most wonderful city in the world."

The symphony conductor drew chuckles from his audience when he said he would rather speak about automobiles than orchestras.

(His weekly column, "Gruber At The Wheel," appears in The Times.)

"My heart is really in cars, but I have to make a living," he murmured.

The speaker was introduced by Cliff Rutledge and thanked by George Gray. Tom Little presided.

The "Archie McKinnon Appreciation Fund" is a response to innumerable requests that tangible appreciation be given "Archie" who has contributed so much to the development of young Victoria swimmers and athletes over the years.

One of the fund's purposes is to finance a convalescent trip for Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon. The proposal has the approval of his physician at St. Joseph's Hospital.

"Times without number," said Mr. Stott, "Individuals have expressed their gratitude for the kindness and consideration shown to them and theirs by Archie in a lifetime of service, far beyond the calls of his job in this community, Contributions to the fund may be forwarded to the
